Open Letter to Senator Ed Fletcher on Futility of Wasserman Test

Medical Records Prove de Aryan Right

The Hon. Ed Fletcher, San Diego.

My Dear Senator:

Hoping to find you in good health I am happy to call to your attention an Associated Press dispatch from New York of Dec. 14, which I am reproducing below for your benefit. It deals with that subject so near to your heart: Syphilis.

According to this news item the military medical records show "that far more persons without syphilis show positive Wassermans". And because men who had no syphilis were shown to "have it" according to the stupid tests, it became evident that they were rejected as syphilitic when they were "entirely free from the disease".

Now, my dear Senator, does your memory serve you sufficiently to recall the conference I had with you in your office concerning the fallacy and the menace of forcing men and women to subject themselves to this foolish "test" before a marriage license be issued them? Did you not tell me that you must accept the recommendation of medical authorities since you did not know a thing about it? And did I not tell you that political medical racketeers are not to be trusted but that many a young man and woman would be frightened to death and subjected to injections with arsenic and mercurial poisons which will ruin them for life, besides breaking up their romance and destroying a budding home before it ever had a chance, merely because the Wasserman test itself is a racket.

But gullible as you are, you worked to impose this law of criminal medical racketeers upon our state. I told you, you are washed up as a politician as long as I can swing the balance of votes in this county and I rather returned Ed Izac to congress than to have such irresponsible sucker there, who when confronted with the truth deliberately chooses to betray the people for the profit of the medical racketeers. You imagined the medics would pull you through. You were cocksure you had been elected in the primaries. But you discovered that the Lord uses mysterious ways His wonders to perform. You got licked and the medics are confessing their own racket in this Associated Press item. Read it and weep:

NEW YORK.—All military medical records are broken by the new army ruling that two positive Wassermann tests disqualify a draftee. The medical profession is astonished, but sees in this move, the possibility of a knockout blow to syphilis.

"The new regulations," says the journal of the American Medical association, high court of medical opinion, "were unique and not duplicated as far as we know in any other country or by this country in any previous emergency."

The new point is acceptance of two serological tests as sufficient evidence. That never has been done before. In the World war, at the start, the U. S. rejected men with clinical evidences of syphilis, quite a different matter. But so many men had the disease that this bar was dropped, and replaced by placing such men in separate camps to be treated until they were no longer in the infectious stage.

The choice by blood tests alone strikes at a far wider range of young men. The implications are many, not all of them good. For example, on the wrong side, it has been found this year that far more persons without syphilis show positive Wassermans than had been supposed. Many men entirely free from the disease might be rejected. It is to try to get around this that the army set two Wassermans as the bar, instead of only one.

Conditions Listed

Seven conditions under which Wassermans may be wrong were reported within the last month by Drs. Joseph Earle Moore, Harry Eagle and Charles F. Mohr of Baltimore. These are: smallpox vaccination within the preceding four months; acute mononucleosis, a recently discovered disease causing emaciation and nausea; rat bite fever; perhaps typhus; pneumonia and other acute infections of the upper respiratory tract; acute infections of undetermined origin, and serum treatment including tetanus antitoxin.

These physicians, in the last three years, have seen in their own clinic 40 persons with positive Wassermans yet no syphilis.

MURNEY MINTZER
PRO-BRITISH PROPAGANDA

I received a postal card invitation to appear at the Unitarian Church on Friday night, Dec. 13, where Murney Mintzer and Stuart Lake were scheduled to speak on the Menace of a Monopolized Press under the auspices of the San Diego League for Defense of Democracy.

As a rule I do not go out nights unless I have to speak some place. I need the rest. But seeing that they took the trouble to invite me on such a subject near to my heart I ventured to attend. While I was fortified against a deep disappointment, for at no time have I experienced any satisfaction of mental hunger after the truth in the company of our liberally red comrades, of the press or the schools, nevertheless it is quite unpleasant to have one's experiences repeated when one attends the meetings of these undisciplined and lopsided disciples of licentiousness in the literary arts or sophistry which poses as philosophy.

Prof. Lewis B. Lesley, of the state college, presided. In the audience I noticed my old friend Harry Steinmetz and Miss Kate Dewing was holding forth in a harrangue for funds to democratize China by setting the Chinese up in business through a working capital of $7 for each Chinaman. It is so remarkable how our "Americans" (?) are always deeply concerned about "democracy" in China while they advocate more bureaucracy, British style and surrender of all our American rights of sovereign citizenship to "defend British democracy". In fact it turned my stomach once more. It is sickening.

Lesley explained that Stuart Lake wisely

Is It A Public Service To Challenge Conscription?

(Boise Valley Herald, Idaho)

Recently we received a letter from a young man, a student in a State University. From the tone in which he expressed his readiness to "conform" to the conscription law we were forced to the conclusion that he regarded "non-conformity" or resistance to the law as undemocratic or maybe poor sportsmanship. We make this allusion to the fact that this correspondent is a University man because, in view of the fact of his superior privileges—and him, previously having written an article for publication—it is not at all surprising that many lesser schooled citizens are today to be found taking that attitude.

Let us here emphasize that we are not blaming the young man, above alluded to. He is the product of our schooling system and our schooling system is the product of our politico-economic system—not of our democracy, mind you, but of our caricature of democracy. How different this University man's standards of civic conduct are from those of that self-made philosopher of a century ago, namely, Thoreau who made answer to the problem of both his own day and of this present day, in these words:

"There will never be a really free and enlightened state until the state (and University men are part of the state) comes to recognize the individual as a higher and independent power, from which all its own power and authority are derived, and treats him accordingly."

The long, shifty record of human progress is full of proof that history is made by those who do the thing that their judgment, their conscience, tells them is right even if it is in open defiance both of popular demand and of official mandates and punishment. Do we, the editor of the lowly and un-endowed village paper thus challenge the contrary practices and conduct of the well entrenched schooling institutions, and of many of the churches of the land? Our answer is, we do. Are we alone and unsupported, in making this challenge? Our answer is, no, not entirely. In saying we have some support, we recall that during the period of the World War, or shortly after, Dr. Donald J. Cowling, the President of Carleton College said this:

"If our forefathers had been trained in the colleges of today they would have remained submissive subjects of the King of England . . ."

"... Our forefathers were able to fight for ideals of liberty in the Revolution only because the colleges of the day were liberal enough to foster (mind you, "to foster", means more than to merely "mouth" it in the class room) such ideals.

"In the colleges of today, (that was in the 1917 to 1925 period) the students are taught to be submissive slaves to those who tyrannize over personal freedom . . . they (the young people) forget that there are standards of personal liberty (conscience is the essential personal liberty) that must be maintained."

The refusal to "comply" with the Selective Service Act must be based upon the grounds that the Act is unconstitutional; or that it violates the well-considered judgment, the "conscience" of the person in question, or it may be, and in our judgment should be, for both reasons.

However, civil resistance to the act must be on the grounds that it is unconstitutional. In view of the fact that the eight divinity students in New York, who were sentenced to a year and a day—having plead guilty—it must be assumed that their religious obligations wholly overshadowed (& we are saying this in no spirit of censure) their civic obligations. It is here our contention that public schools and the public press should teach that the efforts of the citizen should ever be to enlighten and arouse the civic conscience to make it manifest in the conduct not alone of the community but of the general government as well. To plead "guilty" as the eight students did, rather than plead "personal rights" as other non-registering young men are doing must not be taken to necessarily imply that these students accepted the law as constitutional. Instead, it is far more likely that they felt they could not, by any means, meet the cost of testing the matter out in the courts. Also, it must not be assumed that those who are taking the first necessary steps to fight it thru the courts, either have the money in hand or can be sure just where it is coming from.

Let us say that the first feeling of these young men is that they are doing the thing that everyone who is clearly opposed to the Act should have started and should be doing. But since the burden of actual and "penalized" resistance has been accepted by them, they have a right to expect that the comradely feelings of the thousands who believe these young men are taking the right course will prompt them to do what a very few have already done, namely, make small contributions to the fund necessary to carry it to the highest court.

In order to assure those who contribute, that they will not be betrayed, there will be a committee arranged for to give receipts and render an accounting to all who are in any way interested, either as contributors, or final payees.

"De ARYAN COMMENTS"

Radio Talk, Wednesday 8:15 pm, KGB, Dec. 18

I noticed in the Vista Press of last week, published by our friend Remsburg, of Vista, California, a small town in San Diego County, right on the front page a number of quotations from speeches made by President Roosevelt. The heading of that column read: "A Pledge That Must Be Kept". The substance of the nine quotations of the President's speeches is a reiteration of "Keeping America out of this war", to use the President's own words.

The enumeration of those quotations sounded very familiar to me and I started looking for the source whence the Vista Press editor got them. Finally I found it. They are from an editorial in the SATURDAY EVENING POST of Dec. 14, this year. In THE SATURDAY EVENING POST this nine times repeated pledge appeared side by side, perhaps for the sake of contrast, with another editorial headlined: "The German Word". It quotes Adolph Hitler's reply to a telegram sent by President Roosevelt to Hitler before the war started in which Herr Hitler replied in a speech before the Reichstag. Concerning an invasion of the countries bordering Germany Hitler said: "... all states bordering on Germany have received much more binding assurances and, particularly, more binding proposals, than Mr. Roosevelt asked from me in his curious telegram." This reply to President Roosevelt's inquiry regarding the safety of France, Great Britain and the small countries of Europe has been interpreted in THE SATURDAY EVENING POST editorial to mean a positive assurance of no invasion, while the editorial does not disclose the text of what Herr Hitler called "more binding proposals" to safeguard the territory of Germany's neighbors. The editorial points to recent history that all those countries have been invaded and thus the value of "The German Word" is cynically illustrated.

President Roosevelt's Word

We, in the U. S. A., are fortunate that we are not bodily in the war; we are fortunate that our young men are not being shot down on the battle fields; we are fortunate that our cities are not airbombed and burned from the sky; we are fortunate that our vessels on the seven seas are not torpedoed.

We are fortunate that we have a President whose word is his bond and who always keeps his pledges. The contrast between the enumeration of the nine pledges to keep this country neutral made by President Roosevelt and the text of the editorial "The German Word" should be in our favor. Here is what the President pledged himself on Sept 21, 1939 in his message to Congress: "Our acts must be guided by one single hard headed thought—keeping America out of the war."

On April 20, 1940, President Roosevelt said to the Young Democratic Clubs: "We are keeping out of the wars that are going on in Europe and in Asia."

When President Roosevelt was here in our own San Diego on October 2nd, 1935, this is what the SATURDAY EVENING POST editorial of Oct. 26, this year, reports him as saying: "Despite what happens in continents overseas, the United States of America shall and must remain, as long ago the Father of Our Country prayed that it might remain, unentangled and free." (end quote).

Yes, We Have No Part in War

This pledge by President Roosevelt who always keeps his word as contrasted by "The German Word" makes Americans breathe freely in the certainty that we are not entangled in alliances with any of the belligerents but are strictly neutral and are staying out of war.

And this joyful realization that our country will not and does not have any part in the foreign conflict is doubly assured by this pledge of President Roosevelt made in Philadelphia, Oct. 23, this year. "I give to you and to the people of this country this most solemn assurance: There is no secret treaty, no secret obligation, no secret commitment, no secret understanding in any shape or form, direct or indirect, with any other government, or any other nation in any part of the world, to involve—no such secrecy that might or could, in any shape, involve—this nation in any war or for any other purpose. Is that clear?"

Well, this ought to make it clear, for no man could make a more complete denial of any foreign involvement or entanglement with a foreign government.

And so, let us remember, that in war and in peace, GOD still rules supreme and calls us to account for our actions.

God IS the Judge

None of us can escape the eternal Judge and He is no respecter of persons. Every public official of our government, state and federal, makes a solemn promise to his God, when he takes the oath of office to keep the faith and none can escape the consequences of a breach of faith pledged to Almighty God, for we the people have in the last analysis no other standard, no other guide, no other protector than Almighty God on whom we must rely. While we keep faith with Him, His promise assures us peace and security, happiness and liberty. But will make the race.

B. Alexander Broome, chairman of the former Willkie-McNary Club of San Diego County, a member of the National Organizations for Mr. Willkie, received the following letter from Mr. Willkie: "I wish to send you this brief note of appreciation for the work you did during the campaign. As one of the leaders in the great volunteer effort, you have every right to be proud of the part which you and our associates played. I hope that you will continue your interest in public affairs and your fight for the principles in which you and I believe. Because it is not feasible for me to write a letter to everybody who worked in your organization—much as I would wish to do so—I hope you will convey to your associates my deep appreciation for the work they men may break faith with their constituents, professional politicians are known to do so quite often. They all pledge to serve the best interests of the people, but if they did, would there be poverty, would there be laws on the statute books that penalize thrift and industry? To assure liberty, happiness, prosperity, domestic tranquility and security from aggression a people as well as its government must keep faith with God. It is impossible to insure these blessings while individuals in private and in public break the Law of God; while officials make all sorts of pledges before election and ignore them when in the seat of power.

Need of Prayer and Religion

In these critical days of confusion, fears and war hysteria it is impossible to keep one's outlook clear and one's sentiments well in hand unless one takes recourse to religious discipline. For this reason I am reminding my two boys to be sure and start the day with prayer. After bathing and dressing, after taking their morning exercises to limber up the body they are instructed to direct their attention to the Presence of God. God is here, now, everpresent. God is the decisive power, not the whim of mortals no matter who they be or how many of them. God is the ultimate Judge of what is right and what is wrong. In His wisdom we find safety, guidance for the day to not only mind our own business, but to mind it in such a fashion that we do not encroach upon the rights of our neighbor.

This is the beauty of prayer for the devoted soul, that such devotion directs the mind into the right channels of thought, of feeling, opens up new vistas, reveals the beauties of divine Intelligence and we actually find and discover that even in a world at war there is peace for those who love peace and place loyalty to God above worldly consideration.

Prayer is not the mumbling of words no matter how well chosen. Prayer is the opening of our heart to let divine Light shine and show us the purpose of our being here. Each day has its own purpose. We are not here to idle our time away or to accumulate material wealth. We are here to do a very definite work in the great workshop of God. For this universe is a workshop and we are the workers. This material world is still in the process of production. Just because out of star dust it has been condensed to the consistence where organic life has become a reality and we have come down here to live in physical organism does not mean that production has stopped. On the contrary, we are now to produce a paradise here upon this earth by harnessing the powers of nature to demonstrate the mastery of creative intelligence over the products of material nature. We must reach out in humbleness every morning to make contact with the Divine Creator, with the Master of the Universe and report our presence to Him, acknowledge His presence, become conscious of it and be willing to get instructions for the day which, then, we must carry out faithfully and in every detail.

People who forget the Presence of God, of course, will stray from the path of Intelligence, they will seek to righten their wrongs by brutality and make matters worse. God is supreme Intelligence, God is the quintessence of Reason and His master plan is perfect. If we follow His plan we shall never be in conflict with one another, on the contrary our work will dovetail with the work assigned to our neighbor and co-operatively we will increase our welfare, our powers to do good and we will learn more from did."

In continuing our interest in Mr. Willkie, all citizens, regardless of their political party, who wish to enroll with the "League of We, the People" are invited to call B. Alexander Broome, Room 342 San Diego Trust and Savings Bank Bldg, or write for a copy of the plan.

EDITORIAL INSTRUCTIONS

Screwball Magazine is in no sense a non-profit venture; the editor wants to live in luxury.

A unique and increasingly unpopular plan has therefore been adopted, under which the poor screwballs who contribute to this amazing periodical don't get a damn cent for their efforts but actually pay for the privilege of seeing their masterpieces in print.

This impossible result is accomplished by permitting each contributor to advertise himself, his previously published works, his literary services, his own (second rate) magazine, his lonesome club, hand embroidery or garden seeds at the rate of $2.00 per column inch in 1000 copies distributed sparsely throughout the entire United States. His advertising copy must be worded in a screwball fashion and may contain as many as 70 words per inch. He receives five copies of the magazine which he may use to impress his friends, antagonize his enemies, or start the fire on cold mornings. This also solves the problem of circulation.

The editor wants humorous verse, brief articles, clean cartoons and short stories of less than 1000 words. He also wants $32.00 per page of advertising in advance on account of the printer is a hide-bound stick-in-the-mud with old fashioned ideas about credit and practically no vision at all.

Manuscripts should be reasonably legible and must be accompanied by postage for reply or return.

day to day.

There is no substitute for true religion, for the realization of the Presence of God. This is the first thought a wise person remembers upon awakening in the morning. It is the last Thought with which one closes his eyes, hugging the pillow at night. In that thought there lies safety, for it dials you in with the right station in life and you are able to contact the other workers in the vineyard of the Lord who are as seriously engaged in doing His work in this life as you are. It is the central station that brings you into contact with all the information you need to succeed. But it is up to you what you do. You may be too lazy to follow up with practice and do your day's work in accordance with the strict discipline. You may learn to know the truth but ignore it in practice and naturally, you must take the consequences which in the final analysis not only bring all ills of the flesh to your door but wind you up in war besides.

WILLKIE VOLUNTEERS CONTINUE WORK

As a part of a nationwide move to continue the work and organization of the Willkie Volunteers and other organizations in the interest of the election of Wendell L. Willkie to the Presidency of the United States in 1940, the "League of We, the People", cooperating with National Headquarters in New York, was organized for the express purpose of holding together in one central organization, in the County of San Diego all voters, "Regardless of their Political Party" who believe in the principles represented by Mr. Willkie and are still willing to carry the crusade to an ultimate victory in 1944.

Prior to 1940, we who now represent the "Loyal Oppositionists" were Democrats, Republicans and non-partisans. Today most of us think in the same terms. We can be sure that we shall not suffer at the hands of the political party under whose banner Mr. Willkie

THE CRITIC

By O. C. Ludwig

Apostle Paul in writing to the Romans said: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that you present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

Every prophet of God from the dawn of life to the present time has been a great critic. He refused to follow the unrighteous habits and customs of the people. He would not conform his ways to those of the world. Anything that is conformed is closely fitted, as the skin to an almond. To be popular in this world a man must become as the skin of an almond in his conformation to the accustomed thinking and acting of the people. He must find no fault with unrighteousness.

Apostle James wrote to the twelve tribes of Israel: "... know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God." Jesus Christ was almost friendless when on earth. He was a severe critic of the then established customs of the people. He was fearless and spoke the truth even when he knew it would cost him his life. He would not be conformed to this world.

Is there a man today who would get up in a Temple of God and so arouse the worshippers therein that they would stone him, or drive him from the Temple? Jesus did this. He now sits on the right hand of God.

Men should be respected for the enemies that they make, not the friends. We love Jesus Christ for the enemies he made, not for his friends, for he was nearly friendless.

It is much easier to make friends by keeping step with the unrighteous while we walk this vale of tears, than by walking with Jesus Christ. But, the friends we make by being an enemy of God are of no value to us. They are a detriment to us.

Men are great because of the enemies they have made, not the friends. A man with friends in all walks of life cannot be sincere, if he conform to their ways; and he would have to do this to retain their friendship very long.

Jesus Christ made statements which caused his disciples to walk no more with him and he questioned the apostles as to whether they would desert him, too.

Jesus Christ represents to us the TRUTH in the great controversy, and the Devil represents to us the FALSEHOOD or LIE. We are prone to believe the LIE for it seems true and the TRUTH seems false. Our wisdom is insufficient to enable us to walk in the paths of TRUTH, therefore, we must believe and rely on the statements of God and his prophets, to enable us to so walk.

Whenever men walk in the ways of TRUTH after the commandments of God, they are more than friends, they love each other. They are not called friends, they are called saints. There is a great difference between being a friend and being a saint. A saint is a Christlike person. The world hates him, for it hated Christ, but God loves him and so do all of God's children on earth.

Be careful, therefore, not to unduly condemn honest and true criticism, for you may find yourself opposing the truth of God, which is always intended for your good.

Don't ever become just another member of a mob. Man was made in the image of God and there is only one God, and only one you in the whole world.

THE BRITISH "DEMOCRACY"

There are times when the editorial writer of the San Diego TRIBUNE-SUN yields to the still small voice of American straightforward honesty and confesses that the British are opposed to everything dear to the American concept of equal rights, to American tradition of a classless nation. In between times the poor fellow forgets America in his passion of proving a loyal tool of the William Allen White propaganda to protect the British Empire at the expense of all that is dear to American life. We are to give up our own independence, we are to let the British censor our life, our mail, regulate our commerce, steal our money and even make us the tail to the British kite.

But let's give the poor devil his due when he yields to the pricks of American conscience and admits that Britain is anything but a country where men are free and equal. Here is the editorial that appeared in the issue of Dec. 18, 1940:

British Class Distinction

To the average American-born citizen, class distinction is a somewhat elusive proposition and likely to be repugnant to his democratic sense of equality. But to the average British subject, not including Colonials, class distinction has always seemed natural enough, and a convenient way to know his particular niche in the social order of things, and to have that niche recognized and respected by his inferiors, his equals and his superiors. To get the idea in mind, it is necessary to understand that when an English servant acidly states: "I hope I know my place!" there is as much of independent pride in the remark as humility, if not more so. It might be said that Britishers have managed to get along with each other by "knowing their places".

Which makes all the more interesting the reports coming from England about the socially leveling effects of the German air raids, wherein the high and the low find themselves thrown together willy-nilly in all manner of circumstances, and make the best of it and like it. Illustrative of what is happening, one British commentator recently said that another six months of German air attack would go far toward destroying British class distinction. Which may be so, but does not indicate that the British people would be entirely happy with the change.

Adversity does make strange bedfellows, but in-born habit of thought is difficult to overcome, and especially with the British. Among them, the lines of social strata have been sharply drawn for longer than is recorded history, and they regard their system of social separation as good British common sense, rather than otherwise. We Americans regard it otherwise. It is all in the point of view.

(Printer's Note:—And what self-respecting American, gives a damn about the British point of view?)

ROOSEVELT'S ADMINISTRATION
PLOTS WAR, SAYS U. S. AUTHOR

CHICAGO.—John T. Flynn, author and economist, declared that "the American government, the William Allen White committee and the agents of the British government are plotting to take America into an actual declaration of war".

Flynn, addressing a mass meeting of the "America First" committee, said in a written speech that "the President of the United States, the secretary of state, the secretary of the treasury, the British government's agents and the William Allen White committee are conferring, intriguing, working night and day behind the scenes . . . to take you from one dangerous position to another, step by step into this terrible war."

Intriguing Charge

President Roosevelt, said Flynn, has none but the most patriotic motives when he advocates greater aid to Britain, but, nevertheless, "the president of the United States, the secretary of the treasury, the British agents, and the William Allen White committee are conferring, intriguing, working night and day behind the scenes to take you from one dangerous position to another."

"For 15 months the people of America have been told we should 'aid Britain short of war'. The generous sympathies and impulses of the American people have been played upon until they have been drawn one step at a time to give first one thing and then another as aid to Britain 'short of war'."

"But tonight we can say with absolute assurance that those who have been luring us along to this aid are no longer interested in that little phrase 'short of war'. Tonight we stand face to face with a definite program, a clear-cut plan not for aid 'short of war', but for war itself."

"The last fatal steps" toward war are marked out, said Flynn, and he listed them as:

"Step No. 1 is for loans and gifts of money by the American government to England. Step No. 2 is the creation of a war dictatorship in order to turn America into an arsenal for Britain. Step No. 3 is sending of American ships into the war zones convoyed by our warships. The next step is the declaration of war."

Another speaker was Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, authoress. She declared the vast majority of Americans want no part of "a conflict which was none of our making."

Will People Take Warning?

A great many people would rather keep quiet than say anything unpleasant. But there is one class that just won't observe this rule.

But, after all, when a weather forecaster sees a terrific storm coming, he has to come right out and tell us about it, doesn't he?

Army to Discourage
Semi-Military Groups
SAN FRANCISCO—Formation of independent, semi-military organizations will be discouraged by the U. S. army, which said here that "those who desire to serve can best do so by joining the army or the state guards."

The ninth corps area statement specifically mentioned the "American Military Reserve," a recently organized group for semi-military training with headquarters in Hollywood.

No attempt will be made, the statement said, to liquidate such groups, but their existence and spread will be discouraged.

The Jews have two such armies, the one mentioned above in Hollywood and one in New York

OMAHA, Nebr.,—True attitude of Organized Jewry, which controls AFL and CIO unions, towards worker and employer seen in action of Jew Paul Moss, New York City comr. of Licenses, who suspended licenses of 3 old-time employment agencies 9-15-40 for refusing to divulge the names of employers desiring "Anglo-Saxons exclusively". This typical Jewish "tolerance" (?) when in power, seen again in arresting and "committing to Bellevue, allegedly to find the causes of his anti-Semitism" ("anti-Semitism" being synonymous with insanity, traitor, 5th Columnist, rat, etc.); at New York City the Congressional candidate Joe McWilliams. Official Communist DAILY WORKER 9-20-40 warns and hints who is responsible; editorially: "... This kind of horseplay is designed to give a false illusion of security to the Jewish people and other minority groups. Actually, because of the war-mongering 'defense' program, anti-Semitism is growing by leaps and bounds..." It demands harsher measures to anti-Semites.

(5) As part of keeping "peace" (i. e., truth from public), radio stations beg off from paid-for Rev. Coughlin broadcasts, to have begun in Oct., but DAILY WORKER 9-20-40 brags the Communist Party has signed up 5 Coast-to-Coast hook-ups on NBC, CBS, and Mutual Broadcasting Companies. Thus is illustrated again the tolerant nature of Jewish control—Christians cannot even buy their time, but Anti-Christ gets it free!

Surely time is ripe for Christian American WOMANHOOD to "March on Washington"!!!

An article in the current issue of LE NOUVEAU, Paris newspaper, openly hurls exactly this accusation. The editor declares: "Few people know, that if M. Daladier (then French Premier) was disposed at 2 pm on Aug. 31, '39, to accept unconditionally the Italian proposition of an European conference, and if on the same day at 6 pm he put off French adhesion to the offer, it was because, in the interval he had conversations with Mr. Bullitt and with Bullitt's friend, Juljuz Lukasiewicz, then Polish ambassador to France." The same editorial accused certain French journalists, men who were powerful prior to the German victory, of 'get-

THAT BRITISH "DEMOCRACY"

"The Bahamas have come to the public eye because of the new Governor, The Duke of Windsor"—Square Deal.

"Buy property in the Bahamas. Large and Small estates. No land tax". —Toronto Star (Real Estate Adv't).

"The white population of the Bahamas received the new Governor coolly. The colored population were jubilant... hoping he would raise their daily wages back to 50c a day."

—Life Magazine.

The lesson in above quotations needs no diagram. "No land tax", means temporary profits in land gambling and for workers wages of less than 50c a day. Do colored people of Bahamaas or the "pore white trash", living there, want to die for that kind of Liberty? Britain has plenty of it!—Geo. Cartwright.

HOW JEWESS AND CAROL ROBBED ROUMANIA

The fantastic relationship between Carol and Magda Lupescu (Wolf) in recent years. The redhead isn't as glamorous as she used to be, so she handles their business affairs and sees to it that he meets interesting people—particularly if they are pretty... The magnificent, half-finished villa Carol was building for Magda when the crisis arose... The huge ranches the couple own (mostly held in her name) in Canada and Brazil. They plan to head for whichever one of these countries is most hospitable... The fasties Carol pulled on his people, including the sale of the castle to his mother, Queen Marie, built at Balic on the Black sea. He "forced" the town to buy the place for 60 million lei, knowing full well at the time that the entire area was soon to fall into the hands of Bulgaria.

—Walter Winchell.

ting encouragement from two American Jews, namely, Secy of Treas. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and Bernard Baruch."

"The truth is that the American circles, which even today favor some sort of military support of the USA in favor of Britain, bear a heavy responsibility in that noxious psychosis which pushed our country first into war", says this newspaper. In view of the bitter French attitude toward Ambassador Bullitt, it is not strange that he has decided to resign his post."

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES REPORT

Mrs. Alma Payne has taken over the management of the Oceanside branch of the Goodwill Industries, Mr. H. O. Houghton having been called to the main store in San Diego to take over the shoe department which had been conducted by Mr. A. H. Andrews, who resigned to accept a position paying a larger salary.

Supt. Myron Insko, who is in charge of all the organization's activities in this county, reports that in the important matter of cash income November was the best month of the year so far. He was able to pay out in cash wages $3,000 to a daily average of sixty men and women during the month.

In keeping with the policy of Goodwill Industries everywhere a worker on crutches has been added to the toy repair department. While he had found it impossible to get employment in ordinary industry, he is doing excellent service at the Goodwill and proving his ability to make his own way in life.

"One of the difficulties in American public life has been its failure to call its ablest and best men to public service."

HEALTH-GERMS

By George Starr White, M. D.

FENNEL

Every old-fashioned garden used to have a corner set apart for growing fennel ("sweet fennel" or "wild anise" in California). It was grown for the seeds.

When ripe, the seeds were picked off in clusters and on the big stem, and taken to the attic, where they were spread on old papers on the floor, or hung up by strings to dry. During the winter these fennel seeds were used in salads, in candy, or eaten as they were. Some who knew their medicinal value, would place a teaspoonful of the dried seeds in a cup of hot water. After an hour the infusion was drunk and the soaked seeds eaten.

This fennel tea has a quieting action on the stomach and is good for quieting the nerves of old and young.

In Southern California, sweet fennel grows as a weed, and the roadsides are decorated with its dark green aromatic herbage. The seeds are ready to gather in late August and early September.

The deep-green feathery "plumage" of the sweet fennel stands out distinctively in the spring. This "plumage" is excellent in salads. As the "seed-holders" begin to unfold, they, as well as the young seeds, are good to eat as they are, or as part of a salad, after being thoroughly washed.

The juice of the stalks can be mixed with olive oil and lemon juice for a salad dressing. The roots of cultivated fennel make a delicacy for salads.

A handful of seeds thoroly chewed and swallowed after meals, will often prevent indigestion.

Wife Railroaded Cummings to Patton

Mistaken Syphilis Diagnosis Cripples Victim

Editor, The Broom:

This is to help clarify the hearing of my case before the Board of Supervisors. I asked for the hearing expecting my claim to be rejected as under the law a claim must be rejected before entering suit. My two main points of contention, were, that I had been improperly examined in the psychopathic ward and wrongly committed to Patton.

At the hearing Judge Turrentine admitted that the arraignment for trial was held behind locked doors not open to the press and public.

My wife's statement verified my contention that the charges were not read at the hearing, nor the law I had violated, only the testimony of two doctors and herself was taken. I was not informed of my rights to defend myself at the hearing; nor asked to make a statement in self-defense. The fact also remains that I had already served 3 days of my sentence in Patton before the five days limitation of time for appeal had expired in San Diego. This was not explained by Judge Turrentine nor Dr. Andrews.

I cited in my written statement many places where they did not comply with the law. The opposition steered clear of this statement as far as possible and hid behind professional practices and customs established by themselves.

Assemblyman Paul Richie clashed with Dr. Andrews as regards my treatment at Patton showing that no compulsory law was in effect at that time. Bill Garrett testified that sedatives are given by orderlies when no doctors are present. It was not shown that psychopathic parole officers ever investigated my case. It also developed that no transcription of testimony is made at either arraignment or hearings, so it was my word against theirs.

"Railroading" means to hurry as introduced by Jim Hill, railroad and empire builder. This slogan among employees was, to "run like hell and haul no empties". The term as applied to courts means, to dodge as many issues as possible and take the "short cuts" to conviction.

Assemblyman Richie at the hearing asked how 24 cases could be disposed of in two hours and justice given to any. The question wasn't answered. The judge wasted five minutes on my case. I can't understand why I wasn't taken straight from home to Patton so the cost of all that ceremony at the Psycho ward could have been saved the taxpayers.

Wassermann Test Wrong

Dr. Andrews under questioning from me admitted that the medical examination was made by an interne, blood from my arm was extracted by this interne and not in the presence of Dr. Andrews which does not comply with the law. I asked him if alcohol showed in my blood test. He answered in the negative after just testifying that doctors at Patton found a "positive" test. My blood test in San Diego showed "negative". I had only a few minutes before asked him why the difference and he had explained to the Board of Supervisors that it was due to alcohol in the blood veins, so his testimony contradicts itself. Dr. Andrews further admits that arrested persons are not allowed to use the telephone in person but must depend on orderlies to relay messages to the outside. My former wife and three small children (who should have been in school) were called for this hearing before the Supervisors, Hughes, Squirrel Island, Maine, now sojourning in Glendive, Montana, published a collection of his own periodical letters, satirizing with a lot of gusto and well aimed darts, the follies and superstitions of modern "religion" as well as the New Deal antics. The volume of 260 pages contains many letters addressed to the Pope, FDR parodies and other razzberries which have previously appeared in the BROOM. It is elegantly bound in red with gold lettering, only why Hughes copyrighted it is beyond our ken. Evidently he wants to protect his estate. He'll never get a profit from it since he gives the book away to those eager enough to want one.

Hughes is an atheist. As such he places emphasis on reason and gets away with it quite nicely when he exposes the utter stupidity and superstition of modern commercialized religious rackets, incorporated as churches, including the Roman, Episcopal and Protestant rackets, the Jews not excluded. But being an atheist, Hughes ignores God; that is the weakness of the atheist.

Whenever mortal man ignores the very source of his being here he proves himself a fool. This weakness of mortal mind that ridicules the God whose borrowed energies he reflects unbalances the mind. In this state of unbalance Hughes is unable to distinguish between religious truth and religious racket. He lumps them together and commits sacrilege in his description and allusion to the birth of Christ.

Of course, Christ is not offended, for Hughes is included in the Master's prayer on the cross: Father forgive them;—they know not what they are doing.

not by me but by the county officials, which was only a play for sympathy on their part and Dr. Andrews certainly used "kids and petticoats" in picturing me as a no good father. The children were not called to testify. I was sorry to see innocent children forced to sit in at this hearing about a mistaken syphilis diagnosis. I did not "smear" their mother and stopped questioning her on important things (which would have helped my case) due to their presence. I did not introduce rebuttal testimony, such as letters and signed statements of employers, businessmen and friends which would have contradicted most of her testimony. I have always had a good reputation in San Diego, was never involved in trouble of any kind, was never before arrested on any charge, such as drunkenness, drunk driving or non-support, up until being sent to Patton at her instigation.

Chairman Richards called for a motion to close the hearing while I was on the floor questioning Dr. Andrews on important subjects. I got exactly what I expected to get from the hearing before the Supervisors, so now will carry my case to the people of San Diego. I will have introduced a new claim at Sacramento; then after receiving a final settlement I will enter a suit against the county of San Diego. My case has already caused new laws to be passed and several more will come before the legislature. I have only begun to fight to help the twenty thousand people locked away in California asylums.

COSMIC BIOCHEMISTRY

By Lillian R. Carque

NATURAL BRANDS RESEARCH FOUNDATION
Glendale, California

Each planet has a different rate of vibration or motion; some are strong, others are weak or neutral. Each has a prototype in an organ in the human body. Every planet coordinates with a specific part of the human body. These vibrations impinge on the human body—the epitome of the cosmos—but only to the degree that the blood stream is chemically pure and the body normal in function are we in a position to set up the corresponding cosmic rate of vibration, activating a given planet at a specific time of the year. According to the Carey-Penny System of Biochemistry, each mineral salt allocates with a specific part of the human body, and is absolutely essential to its integrity of structure and functional activity. Indeed the mineral salt corresponding to a particular sign of the zodiac and function of the body is consumed more rapidly at a specific time than are other salts essential to one's well being.

The form or shape of each organ, part or cell must be constructed in accordance with a geometrically perfect pattern. This is possible only by the presence of the exact number of particles and other chemical elements entering into their structure, for normal function is impossible when numerical and chemical imperfections exist. The indwelling Spirit is moreover inhibited in its efforts to manifest Christ Consciousness or perfection, nor can Spirit reside indefinitely in any vehicle, form, body or coat of flesh if there is insufficient chemical attraction to retain it therein. Growth, action and physiological processes must inevitably become chaotic or cease. To the extent that the cells of the cerebrum become chemically and geometrically perfect can they serve as a fitting receiving and broadcasting mechanism of the FATHER within.

WAR — THE CAUSE AND THE CURE

The Cause of War

Wars are waged for LAND—After the wars the victors claim title to the land and back up the title with the sword. Then the victors rent the LAND (the gift of God) to the vanquished and live on the ill-gotten rent of the LAND, thereby producing a world of masters and slaves.

Ingersoll

At present the masters of Europe are forcing their slaves to war for LAND to determine who shall collect the rent of the LAND; English LANDLORDS or German LANDLORDS. THAT is LANDLORDISM, the curse of humanity, therefore as long as the rent of LAND goes into LANDLORD'S pockets there will be WAR for LAND.

The Cure for War

Some day the people of the United States who are now paying thousands of millions of dollars as LAND rent to LANDLORDS every year, will demand that the government shall collect all of the people's LAND rent for all of the people's public needs and then WAR FOR LAND AND THE SLAUGHTER OF MILLIONS OF MEN WILL CEASE for no one will WAR FOR LAND when no one can pocket the people's LAND rent and fathers and mothers will not die broken hearted over the loss of their sons.

P. S.—The members of all organizations opposed to war for LAND should pass the following resolution and send copies to the newspapers:

RESOLVED: WE . . . Hereby demand that all of the people's LAND rent amounting to thousands of millions of dollars shall be collected by the government for all of the people's public needs and thereby abolish the cause of WAR FOR LAND AND THE SLAUGHTER OF MILLIONS OF MEN.

NEW YORK, (Radio Broadcast).—

Can business afford to longer risk its existence in business a system that has proved itself bad by repeated breakdowns in the past half century, and which has now lost control of itself—between that and a make-believe remedy, such as the New Deal?

Can business risk a turnover of 100 billion dollars a year, and 200 billions of assets, on the kind of record that the G. O. P. has; or on any that the New Deal holds out?

Has not business got to have a deal of its own and one free from both monopoly and fallacy?

It's true the New Deal has proved conclusively that it has not the remedy for the old deal. It has not even diagnosed the old deal.

The obvious failure of the old system is in our tax system: (a) notably the protective tariff tax system, because of its monopoly-war-and-poverty-breeding character; (b) its general consumer-tax system that doubles living cost and halves business turnover; and, most important, (c) the exemption of basic monopoly from all taxation that makes of it a 200 billion basic racket, on which all the lesser rackets are based.

It is equally true that the Old Deal has learned nothing of its own troubles or their remedy. It is the most culpable of the two parties, because (1) it is the original offender; (2) it has had ten years of observation and op-stayed home with a plea of sickness and Mintzer confessed that he knew next to nothing about what he called the "American Press" and then took one hour to prove it in detail. But since I got there I sat through the ordeal.

"Owners" of American Press "Too Timid"

As to the freedom of the press in America Mintzer admitted that we have the freedom but are failing to make use of it because the "owners of the press" are too timid. He categorically denied that the press is being dictated to by the advertisers but admitted that his personal experience was very limited to a short period where he acted as editorial writer for the Copley papers here. But, said Mintzer, in the foreign reportorial field the American Press syndicates and columnists are leading the world. He traced the growth of "columnism" which in many instances replaces editorial expression of the old style crusaders and returned to the emphasis of the "timidity" of the "owners" as the cause of unsatisfactory news reporting as well as lack of an aggressive editorial policy which should be leading public opinion in place of keeping its ear to the ground.

But, Mintzer held that the press of America has lost contact with "the people" so that President Roosevelt was elected to the Third Term in spite of overwhelming opposition of the press.

De Aryan, Owner, Wants to Reply

I wrote a note to Lesley asking him for 15 minutes to reply to the foolish charges against the owners of the press made by Mintzer. But Lesley being very democratic decided to let me have only 3 minutes to reply to what Mintzer had said in one hour.

"The reason that editors do not produce a more 'satisfactory' press is YOU. You will not back up fearless editors who produce the truth opportunity to learn, and has learned nothing.

Its last platform and candidate, to the extent that they did not stand pat, merely and literally copied the New Deal fallacies.

Business has let monopoly dominate it and the country for 100 years or so, without any good reason. And now it is letting a false remedy for monopoly, which is worse than the monopoly, dominate affairs.

Cannot business destroy these dominations, and have business dominate?

Business is now challenged from two opposite directions. From the old G. O. P. quarter the tradition is monopoly—or no opposition to it. From the New Deal quarter, while there is no intelligence as to monopoly, there is an entirely distinct challenge to business from the Marxian quarter, which actively fights business, capital and the profit motive.

So business must not only blame monopoly for the original challenge, but also as the cause of the Communistic challenge.

Leading tire makers are being sued for over a million dollars, under the 'triple damage act', for conspiring identical bids back in 1936.

Was not this the time when N. R. A. was jailing pants-pressers for flouting the Blue Eagle and competing in price? Under the philosophy of the Vice President elect, the higher prices are, the richer everyone will be!

Norman Thomas toured 23 states as Socialist candidate for President. If what he wants is Socialism and not office, (which he did not expect to get) he should have stayed at home, because either of the other parties would give a greater measure of Marxian State Socialism than he could accomplish if elected. Though the New Deal is most frankly Collectivist, neither the G. O. P. nor its candidate presented any coherent opposition to the President and his backers.

in all matters of public concern. You like them as long as they expose the other fellow but you boycott them when they expose your own lethargy, ignorance, indolence and duplicity. That is the reason why the commercialized press avoids controversial issues and soft soaps you, treats you as the morons you are and is "timid" lest it lose circulation among the large mass of the public who wishes to be entertained but does not care a hang about any truth which shows you up in your own indolence and lack of the sense of responsibility in public affairs.

"As far as monopoly of the press is concerned the menace to America is the present British control of the press. The American viewpoint is being subordinated to British demand for helping them win their imperialistic war. Any nation that goes to war has already lost the war before it started. War is destruction. Where reason ceases force begins. Where reason operates people are conscious of the rights of others and respect them. When they encroach upon those rights for a long period it results in war. Therefore a period of lack of reason precedes every war. It is impossible to safeguard peace by going to war. It is impossible to safeguard life by going to war. Only nations who are bankrupt go to war. It gives an opportunity to dictators to make a scapegoat of the other fellow, the 'enemy' and divert the attention of the people from the existing bankruptcy of government."

Murney Mintzer Hints at "Crackpot"

Not being able to reply to the point to what de Aryan had said, Murney Mintzer took recourse to hinting that he included in the "American Press" only responsible editors and publishers, but not crackpots. His idea was that the press of America had lost "contact" with the public; while he failed to show that the mass of the American public is ignorant; that the press is controlled by advertisers and by booty in various forms. That no big paper can exist and pay its bills unless it pleases the large proportion of morons. He failed to state that George Washington was as unpopular in his day with the British Tories and the large majority of the pro-British "Americans" who even then outnumbered the patriotic Americans 2 to 1, as is the case today.

In fine Murney Mintzer seems to imagine that the truth and the ideals of the Republic depend upon popular vote. Since Roosevelt corrupted the vote by political steals and bribery reaching into the billions of pork barrel distributions; since Roosevelt used every corrupt means of political machines to "swing the balance", Mintzer wants us to believe that he was elected by a popular majority against the advice of the timid owners of the press. The truth of the matter is the timid owners did not go all the way to expose and drag into the courts and present for impeachment those who are at the bottom of this public corruption, because the press is controlled by the very ones who are the enemies of America. Editors will weakly point here and there to bad spots, but they fail to take the effective action that would bring results on a national scale similar to Tom Dewey's racket busting in his New York City bailiwick.

To "prove" that being pro-British is "American" Mintzer asked for endorsement by the audience. Naturally, like in George Washington days, the pro-Tories and the pro-Britishers outnumber the Americans. What does it prove? It reminds us that America is going to pay a terrific price in men, wealth and humiliation till it will arouse itself to final independence from the British Tories.

Foreign News Excellence

Mintzer failed to explain the phenomenal attention which the American press and radio gives to foreign news. Because the reporter

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF DRAFT CHALLENGED IN U. S. COURT

PHILADELPHIA.—Constitutionality of the selective service act was attacked in a suit filed in federal court by a 23-year-old conscientious objector who refused to register for the draft.

Merritt E. Garst jr., of Bethlehem, who was arraigned last week on draft evasion charges, contended that the draft law violates the first amendment providing for freedom of religion, of the press, of speech and of assembly; that the constitution gave congress no power to conscript men in peacetime; that it violates the section giving states the right to train militia; that the attempt to delegate new powers to President Roosevelt violates the constitution; that the act invests draft boards with judicial powers, and that it "confiscates" jobs and is discriminatory.

Minister Registers on Special Card For Humanitarian Service Only

PORTLAND, Ore.—The Rev. Paul R. Ackerman, awaiting sentence on a plea of guilty to the charge of refusing to register for the draft, registered by means of a special card.

He filed it with draft board No. 9, writing above his signature "I am a conscientious objector registering entirely for non-military and humanitarian purposes."

Rev. Ackerman showed Harry Dorman, draft board chairman, a telegram from Charles F. Boss jr., executive-secretary of the commission on world peace of the Methodist church at Chicago. In it Boss advised Rev. Ackerman to register with the addendum to the registration form: In this way, the telegram stated, "you will be permitted to make your registration form special". Chairman Dorman said he had received no instruction from any selective service law officials of such special form of registration. He said, however, he would file the card.

OBJECTOR JOBS QUERIED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The federal council of Churches of Christ in America, representing 25,000,000 church members in 24 denominations, sent a representative to Washington for an official interpretation of what duties would be imposed upon "conscientious objectors" to military training.

must not disturb the unhealthy situation at home where one third of the people are ill clad, ill nourished and ill housed; because he must not show how our feudal system of British Toryism enriches the land speculator and the title holder at the expense of the workers; because he must not expose our Jewish system of banking which robs the people of their own credit to pay billions of dollars to the international bankers in interest on "capital loans" which are financed by the people themselves with the International Crowd getting the title benefits; because our reporters must not show up the corrupt practices that are reducing this nation to the level of British class conditions with its attendant poverty and bureaucracy;—the public is being entertained with detailed and adventure tinged accounts of what goes on in foreign countries, while at home we are lapsing step by step into the barbarism that leads to war and slavery.

But what Mintzer and his ilk wants is to make us pay for British wars and exploitation. He dares not face the truth presented by none else than Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to England, that England is going as totalitarian as is Italy, Spain and Germany and that to tie ourselves to this process, we, too, are about to lose all our Founding Fathers handed over to us, the most priceless heritage of the ages: Individual sovereignty of the American citizen.
